Oct. 24th (Mon.)	09:30 ~ 12:00	S03. Crustal deformation, GNSS, and gravity (Room 1040) S16. Subsurface structure and its effect on ground motion (Room 1020, 1030) S17. Tsunami (Room 1040)
	15:30 ~ 18:00	S01. Theory and analysis method (Room 1060) S08. Earthquake physics (Room 1050, 1070)
Oct. 25th (Tue.)	09:30 ~ 12:00	S04. Tectonics (Room 1010) S15. Strong ground motion and earthquake disaster (Room 1050, 1060)
	14:00 ~ 17:30	S02. Seismometry and monitoring system (Room 1070) S06. Crustal structure (Room 1030) S07. Structure and dynamics of the Earth and planetary interiors (Room 1040) S10. Active faults and historical earthquakes (Room 1040) S11. Various phenomena associated with earthquakes (Room 1040) S13. Crustal fluids and earthquake (Room 1020) S19. Seismology, general contribution (Room 1020)
Oct. 26th (Wed.)	09:30 ~ 12:00	S09. Statistical seismology and underlying physical processes (Room 1020, 1040, 1060)
	13:30 ~ 16:00	S21. Advancing Seismology with AI (Room 1010, 1030) S22. Earthquakes, tsunamis, and related phenomena around Hokkaido subduction zone (Room 1070) S23. Deepening seismic data analysis and modeling based on Bayesian statistics (Room 1070)

No poster sessions for S05, S12, S14, S18, and S20.

Posters in “S24.Committee activities for society” will be displayed at the Exhibition Hall (1F) from Oct. 24th to Oct. 26th.

The oral and poster sessions will be held concurrently. For oral presentations, please refer to the timetable for oral sessions.

Poster presenters will present at least one hour in front of their poster during the allotted session time. The presentation time will be displayed on each poster panel.

Posters will, in principle, remain on display until the end of the afternoon poster session on the day of the presentation.

There will be no banquet.
